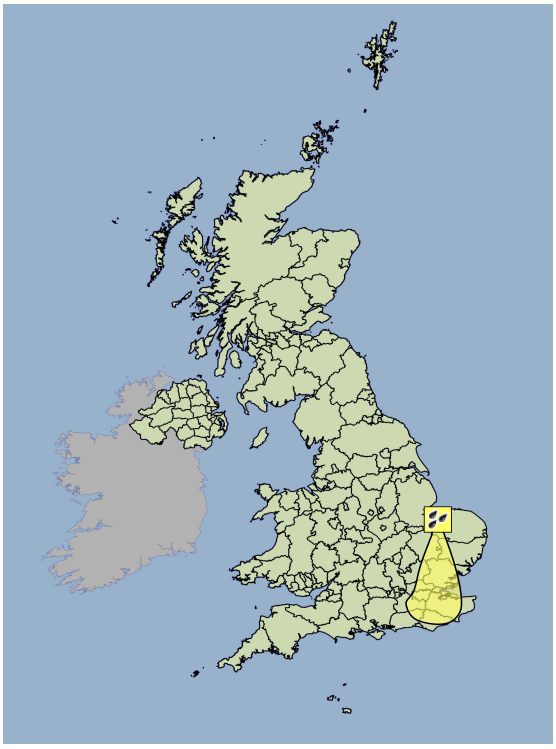
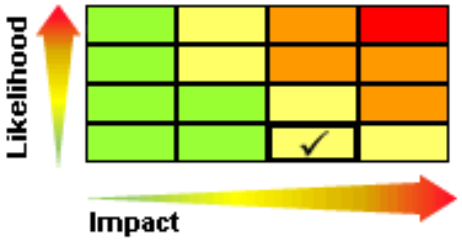
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
After another spell of hot weather there is the potential for thundery rain to develop and affect parts of SE England later this week. Confidence in these developments at this time range is often low and reference to our web site for updates is advised

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Alert of Rain

Valid from 12:00 on Fri, 02nd Aug 2013 until 12:00 on Sat, 03rd Aug 2013

Outbreaks of rain may become heavy and thundery for a time later on Friday, overnight and at first on Saturday. The public should be aware that this may lead to some transport disruption and localised flooding.
